

“Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.”
(Matthew 6:10)

James asks, “What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if you say you have faith but do not have works?” (James 2:14) In Wesley’s understanding, faith does not imply the end of good works, but provides the new ground for good works. His ministry did not only focus on saving people from the wrath of God but also led them to the life of good works which God prepared beforehand to be their way of life. (Ephesians 2:10) This explains why people called “Methodists” have been busily engaged in serving the poor, visiting prisoners, hosting food pantries, repairing houses for the elderly, educating children, building schools and hospitals, claiming social justice, etc. in addition to seeking personal holiness. Wesley was one of the prominent proponents of the unity of faith and works.

Come and join us at Jonesville UMC and let us learn more about John Wesley’s faith journey.
